Mr. Raymond T. Taylor

I hope dear Mr. Taylor, that I have not bored you overmuch with the above. If I were an experienced typist I would do the whole thing over. Under my circumstances, however, that is out of the question. I am enrolling yourself and Mrs. Taylor in our emergency List and will hope for a favorable surprise of some kind - and a favorable report.

Very sincerely yours,

Fr. Solanus, O.F.M. Cap.

P.S. Incidentally, I think it is slightly an error for one who is a Christian (as I presume you are), or who believes in Jesus our Redeemer, to intimate that he does not belong to the same faith as another who, though believing in Jesus Christ and professing Christianity, happens to differ with him in some details, possibly not even essential. Because I claim that there is really but one Christianity, as scientifically there can be but one religion, though there be a thousand different systems of that "Greatest science of all times and of all generations --

"THE SCIENCE OF OUR HAPPY RELATIONSHIP WITH GOD AND OUR NEIGHBOR."

Fr. Sol.

"Thus saith the Lord: Let not the wise man glory to his wisdom, and let not the strong man glory in his strength, and let not the rich man glory in his riches: But let him that glorieth glory in this, that he understandeth and knoweth me, for I am the Lord that exercise mercy, and judgement, and justice in the earth: for these things please me, saith the Lord". (Jer. IX, 23-24).
