after-noon by a Catholic neighbor. "Ill do anything to please the good God if he'll only spare my poor, dear husband"., she answered. "Then, Mrs. W.", answered, "This is about what I would advise you. "Make a promise or proposition to Almighty God in your own honest way as a methodist, that if your husband gives the doctors a surprise tomorrow or by the end of the week (it was Tuesday), you'll be earnest in looking into the difference or rather the relationship between your denomination and the "Mother Church". They returned the following Friday with Mr. W. all taped-up but smiling. He had come home from the Univ.-hospital in Ann Arbor next day Wed.

Doctors Wood and Pete had pronounced his recovery miraculous. October 18th a year and a half later they came back - the last time I saw them and he looked and acted as he'd never been sick. This, however, was two nights after she had phoned me, lamenting that he was not well, etc, and I had admonished her to do something toward the fulfilling of the promise she had made so many months before, if her husband were spared her.

Besides, I had given her a copy of the "Mystical City of God", - the wonderful Life of the Blessed Virgin Mary, which I honestly consider her own autobiography; the actual writer being as her secretary Venerable Mother Mary of Jesus, of Agrada Spain. He especially seemed enthused over the book that night - had been on the "job" of reading the book, those couple of days.
