

The following is a faithful transcription of the typed notes by the Servant of God, Father Solanus Casey, O.F.M. Cap.

MYSTICAL CITY - LOGICAL LANDMARKS.

- I. This work itself, the Mystical City of God; was written in holy obedience to rightly constituted authority and was unreservedly approved by the highest superiors both of Church and State. (including in the latter, Philip II of Spain; and in the former, several Popes, beginning with Innocent XI, innumerable Bishops, Cardinals and Catholic universities.
- II. Its bitterest enemies - outside of Hell itself that tried in every way possible to thwart its being written - have been atheist and jansenistic members of the Parisian Sorbonne.
- III. While its documentary approvals and imprimaturs, in number, in weight, in dignity have been all-surpassing; most convincing in themselves and often most inspiring: still, if read with, at, least a decent degree of humility, the simple though master-introduction by the unassuming writer herself surpasses all others as befitting a work at once so inspired-like and so inspiring, so simple yet so surpassingly sublime. Deo Gr. Glory be to God.
- IV. The unprecedented progress in the blooming out these latter generations and ripening of devotion to Mary Immaculate Mother of God - Lourdes, Fatima, Lippa; Marian Congresses and study-clubs multiplying everywhere; and especially the dogmatic proclamations of the Immaculate Conception and of glorious Assumption, etc: all and each of these, not only suggest but positively plead for such a work, - a "life of the Blessed Virgin".

IV. The unprecedented progress in the blooming and ripening these later decades and generations in "Devotion to Mary" - Lourdes, Fatima, Lippa; Marian congresses and study-clubs multiplying; definitions most solemnly proclaimed of the Immaculate Conception and of the Assumption, etc: - all these and each of them not only suggest but positively plead for such a work, an authentic "Life of the Blessed Virgin", - so supremely outstanding in the history of the Church and of the very life of Christianity and of religion, and of whom so remarkably little is detailed in the Gospel narratives. And most earnest of all, even to internationally-threatening is the demand occasioned by the steadily advancing avalanche of diabolical atheism just now so persistently menacing to every thought of God or of the supernatural - the demand - for positive, detailed - all the better if supernatural and superscientific knowledge of Mary Virgin-Mother and "CoRedemptrix with Jesus her divine Son.
