and then, he has delicate cases, etc?

Rather continue to pray for him--and for all concerned with the institution. They all have their difficulties and there is none of them without defects. Who is to blame? God could have established His Church under supervision of angels that have no faults or weaknesses. But who can doubt that as it stands Today, consisting of and under the supervision of poor sinners--successors to the "poor Fisher-men of Galilee", the Church is a more outstanding miracle than any other way?

Quite the same might be said of any charitable institution. So keep up your prayers and patience and resignation for God's blessed sake; and be sure He is watching all and will never be outdone in generosity. Nor will He ever fail in what He assures: "He that humbleth himself shall be exalted." Who has not sadly experienced the opposite: "He that exalteth himself shall be humbled"? How can we ever thank the merciful God that we still have a chance to humble ourselves and to merit!

Fraternally in Corde Jesu,

Fr. Solanus, O.F.M. Cap.
